“ I went to school with Del and we both learned to ride motorcycles with the Southside gang. He was the first guy I ever dated and you could always count him for the unexpected. My father would get a kick out of asking Del to do his bird calls. Hooty-hoo, hooty-hoo!

“ Del was a unique person. I have many great memories of motorcycling with him all over the country. My favorite was him asking the Federal Park Ranger on the Blue Ridge Parkway, who was giving us a driving award at the time, if he could take the guy's picture. The Park Ranger was flattered and most accommodating. Del will be missed. A man of principles, he stayed true to the course at a great cost.

“ I grew up with Del, graduating from high school with him. He was such a smart, clever guy with a funny sense of humor. He loved his motorcycles - was our younger version of Evil Knievel! He will be missed.

“ Del was so smart and clever. I have a scrap book with a photo of him on a motorcycle that was in the newspaper when we were in high school. I enjoyed re-connecting with Del the last few years through class reunions.

“ I knew Del in high school. I had been on a motorcycle before with my Dad, but Del asked me to go for a ride with him on his 250cc Honda trail/street bike, It was very powerful and Del decided to "Pop A Wheelie" with me on the back. He did it at Shelbyville High School from Mrs.Badgett's biology classroom to the road on Washington Street and a little further. He took me to his house and when I got off the bike, I said, that's it---no more riding with him. I haven't seen Del for a long, long time, but I will surley miss him very much. We have lost many from our class and from classes close to us from Shelbyville High School. Terry Hawkins, Mark Harper, John Stanley, and now Del. I miss the old days with our friends. My name is Clinton Ray Robinson.
