“ Thinking this is my buddy I haven't seen since PicPac closed and so taking a chance to share comments with his family. If this is Bobby McDonald who lived downtown (last place I knew was the Southern Hotel apartments), then let me say he was a good guy. Bobby was always friendly and loved to chat with others. I think he and his family had some tough times over the years and generations. The McDonalds are definitely a family of "originals" around Frankfort and it's a shame we've lost another of those folks who knew so much of our local history. and were a part of that history. My sympathies to Bobby's family.
