“ Brack. I'm a better person today because of our friendship. You were there when no one else was! You were unselfish and cared about others more than yourself!
Man oh man did life have its twists and turns! You were always the mature one and the voice of reason! I really wish life could have been different for you! I wish you could have grown old with someone you loved with everything you needed!
I don't know what to say but I hope everyone that reads this knows that you were a kind and caring friend that would give the shirt off your back or in my case the roof over your head to help a friend or stranger in need! The world does not have a lot of Brack Johnson's!
You will be missed brother!
Thanks for being a friend, confidant and always there when I needed you!
I'll see you in heaven,
Your bud,
Michael Jacobs
