“ As I shed tears I think of all the good times we spent together. The meals we shared, the endless conversations, the trips you took with me for physician visits. I will miss the silly messages you leave on the answering machine, your sound advise and words of wisdom and the excitement you expressed regarding family visits. The tears will fade and these memories will bring joy to my heart some day; just as you did in so many ways while you were here. I love you and pray your in a place more joyful then what you left behind.

My dear friend, you always made me laugh as we talked about how the world was crazy and we were "OK", I will miss you my friend, I will miss not getting a Christmas card from you. I will miss our visits and our lunches out with Debbie, me and you. Claudia's here we come!... always loved going there. I'm glad your at peace now, no more suffering for you and that's the only thing that makes me smile now when I think of you. Your probably walking around Heaven with other friends and relatives having a good ole time. Hey Bob hopefully all of us here on earth will meet up with you again, save a seat at the table for us. Love and Hugs, your friend Betty....

“ Uncle Bobby was always ready with a funny story or a witty comeback. I have so many memories of the laughter that filled his home and heart when we visited. May he RIP and may all his family remember the joy he had in the time of sadness. I am sure he has found grandma in heaven, & they are sitting on a bench swapping stories.

“ Dad, I'll always remember your smile when in the company of those that loved you. When you would tell us a funny story or make us laugh with your unique view on things, it was truly special. And while I'm finding it hard to smile right now, know that you will always be in our hearts and will share so many great memories with Caleb as he grows. I love you and miss you more than words can say. - Love
Always, Dave.

I told you many years ago that I would always love you for being David's father. You were so proud when he was born, the beautiful little boy you had dreamed about one day having. You loved him to the moon and back -- we all know that. We will keep your memory alive for your grandson Caleb and make sure he knows how much you loved him -- and as he grows up, we will tell him all about you so that he can get to know you through his family and be proud of his grandpa Bob. Watch over your family now that you are in God's merciful and graceful care. ~ Love, Suz

In life there are times that bring us great joy and times that break our hearts. just as love needs time to grow, so too does sorrow need time to fade. Bob's sudden passing is difficult for us to understand but our memories of happier times will help us all to heal in time. We will keep him in our prayers.
